WAR TRUCE BETWEEN GOVERNMENT AND BIG BUSINESS IS NOT AT AN END

Washington, April 1.—The government's war truce with big business presumably is at an end. Resumption of federal pursuit of the elusive "trust" was indicated today following a statement by Attorney General Palmer on the dissolution of the Corn Products Refining Company, found guilty under the anti-trust law.

Palmer said that the action of this company and a similar procedure by the Harvester trust last November "should go far toward clearing and settling the law on this question."

This was taken to indicate that the "other trusts" which have been found guilty of anti-trust violations must accept the same course or the government's case against them in the supreme court will be pressed. The Corn Products company dropped its appeal, accepted the lower court decrees and agreed to dissolve. Several appeals of allied trusts from lower court decrees are now pending in the supreme court postponement of the cases having been twice asked by the government because the corporations were engaged on war work. The request of the government for postponement was granted "without prejudice." The cases now probably will not be called up until the October term.

Among the cases pending, most of which the government won in the lower courts are those of the U. S. Steel corporation, the Lehigh and Reading Coal interests, Quaker Oats Company, Eastman Kodak Co., and others.

RUSSIAN BOLSHEVIKI MAY BE ADMITTED TO PEACE CONFERENCE

London, April 1.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily News said today that allied statesmen have submitted a proposition to the Russian soviet government, whereby the Bolsheviki would be admitted to the peace conference under certain conditions.

According to the correspondent, the bolsheviki would be required to cease financing propaganda, discontinue fighting and allow certain parts of Russia the right of self-determination.

Premier Lenine is reported to be agreeable to the proposal, the correspondent said.

FURNITURE POLISH SALESMEN WORK A FLIM-FLAM GAME

Representing that they were selling furniture polish, put out by a well known drug firm which, if it did not prove satisfactory might be taken to the Sayre and Hemphill store where their money would be refunded, several men in an automobile victimized a number of people near New Burlington last Saturday. The authorities were notified so late that the salesmen had plenty of time to clear the county. The company named by them does not make a furniture polish.

Judge Shearer's sight is very poor, and he walked against the end of the train which he thought had cleared the crossing. He fell upon to track behind the train, and his only injuries were some bruises and an abrasion on his hand.

FOCH WILL ADVANCE IF GERMANS REFUSE TO SIGN PEACE TREATY

London, April 1.—In case of the refusal of the Germans to sign the peace terms as drawn up in Paris, Marshal Foch has orders to advance the army of the Rhine.

This means that peace will be dictated in Berlin, according to the Evening News. The newspaper declares it receives its information from reliable sources.

The department of the German foreign office having charge of the peace negotiations has decided to act only in accordance with President Wilson's 14 points in the peace negotiations, a German wireless says.

SAYS ECONOMIC RELATIONS MUST BE VERY CLOSE

Budapest, April 1.—M. Fenyec, representative of the Hungarian soviet government in Vienna, told the representative of a Vienna newspaper that "our economic relations with German Austria must be the closest possible" it was learned here today.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON GETS READY FOR RACE

New York, April 1.—Sir Thomas Lipton went to Brooklyn today to inspect his yacht, Shamrock IV, which has been lying in a shipyard there ever since the outbreak of the war in 1914 ended plans for the cup race. Sir Thomas arrived here yesterday on the Aquitania. He will spend some time making plans for the next race in 1920. Sir Thomas said he probably would bring his newest Shamrock over next spring to engage in trial races with the challenger.

JIMMIE WILDE BEATS AMERICAN FIGHTER

London, April 1.—Jimmy Wilde, British flyweight champion, after spotting Joe Lynch, American aspirant, 6 rounds, drew a referee's decision in their 15 round bout here last night. Odds, 3 to 1 on Wilde at the beginning, became even money by the ninth round when the American had Wilde groggy after severe punishment. Wilde hung on and finished strong in the fifteenth, winning by a narrow margin.

VERY LITTLE IDLE LABOR IN XENIA

Although it is said there are about 300,000 men out of work in Ohio, the Xenia Postoffice is having trouble to get a special delivery messenger.

This would indicate little idle labor in Xenia. The place pays an average of $50 per month and one month ran $70. A reliable young man with a bicycle is preferred. He should furnish reference.

ALL SMALL BOYS WILL ENVY JOB OF THESE U. S. SOLDIERS

U. S. field ammunition force and some German shells they must explode.

There never was a firecracker built quite big enough for the small boy. The bigger the noise the better, and how he envies the soldiers who fire real cannons. The job the U. S. soldiers above have would tickle any lad. Part of the work of the reclamation and demolition men of the U. S. field ammunition force is to explode shells taken from the enemy. These shells are touched off to render them harmless in the future. The picture shows some of the men and a few 15-inch shells they are preparing to set off.

DANZIG QUESTION BECOMES MOST IMPORTANT ISSUE IN GERMANY

Berlin, April 1.—The Danzig question has become the most important issue in Germany. The government has taken the position that serious trouble may result unless the allies send General Haller's Polish army to Warsaw by some other route than Danzig. Anti-Polish demonstrations have occurred in Berlin, Weimar, Breslau and Danzig.

The old threat of Bolshevism is reiterated, many conservative leaders declaring that if the government gives in to the allies a new radical uprising may be precipitated. The German armistice commission has suggested that the Polish troops land at Stettin, Libau or Koenigsburg, instead of Danzig. The situation in the latter city is said to be critical, owing to the antipathy between the German and Polish residents. The Germans there declare they will resist every effort to make Danzig Polish. Americans returning from Danzig report the Polish element is prepared to revolt and declare the city Polish as soon as Haller's troops land. Reports from various sources agree it is impossible to assure the Poles a quiet passage through Danzig, so long as both elements are at swords points. The Germans anticipate the trouble will lead to actual warfare with Poland if the Poles attempt to seize the port.

Field Marshal Von Hindenburg has spent his last week personally inspecting the Polish front. His army probably totals 150,000. It is greatly out-numbered by the Poles but the Germans are believed to be more effective in actual fighting, owing to their superior equipment and greater experience.

SEVEN BODIES ARE REMOVED FROM RIVER

Bristol, Pa., April 1.—Seven bodies have been recovered from the waters of the Delaware and many searching parties are dragging for others huddled into the river late yesterday when a platform on which they were viewing the launching of the cargo carrier Waukau collapsed.

The number of missing is variously estimated at from 1 to 80. Police are experiencing difficulty in checking up the list of missing as some of those on the platform were spectators and others workmen of the Merchants' shipbuilding yards, where the accident occurred.

The Waukau hid the patrol bridge from the view of many spectators gathered to witness the launching and several minutes elapsed before they learned of the disaster. Meanwhile, the vessel was launched on time.

Police believe the suction of the ship as it struck the water may have drawn some of the bodies far into the channel. Police launches are dragging the river between Philadelphia and Trenton.

HUNGARIAN SOVIET GOVERNMENT OFFERS TO JOIN GERMANY

Zurich, April 1.—A dispatch from Vienna today stated it was learned from authorities sources in Budapest that the Hungarian soviet government has offered Germany an alliance against the entente.

Rumors are also in circulation that the Russian soviet government has offered the Germans an alliance.

LITTLE BOY DIES AS RESULT OF WOUND PLAYMATE INFLICTED

Shortly after his eight year old companion Aaron Lewellen, had confessed that he accidentally shot the boy while they were playing, Gordon Hargrave, 5 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hargrave of Sabina, passed away. Pneumonia which developed, was the immediate cause of the lad's death.

The little fellow was shot while the two boys were playing in the Lewellen home. The Lewellen boy loaded the injured lad on a toy wagon and hauled him to a doctor's office. He said that he had found the child lying at the foot of the stairway unconscious, and that he did not know what had happened.

The boy stuck to this story until taken unaware, he admitted that he accidentally shot the boy in the head with a rifle he did not know was loaded.

"BIG FOUR" STILL HAVING TROUBLE GETTING SPEED

Paris, April 1.—Despite President Wilson's impatience at recent delays there was strong evidence that the "big four" was still encountering bars to progress when it resumed its sessions today.

Reparations, French territorial claims and the Hungarian situation were understood to constitute the principal subjects for consideration.

Some of the more optimistic delegates believed the reparations question would be rapidly cleared up, barring unforeseen changes in the present demands of various interests. Others, however, declared the matter of reparations was still far from settlement, although admitting there seems to be a tendency to square all demands with Germany's ability to pay.

The "big four's" problems were further tangled by injection of the Hungarian question yesterday afternoon. The "little five" or foreign ministers council, was called in to discuss it but decisions reached, if any were not revealed.

The French have succeeded in bringing up the question of the left bank of the Rhine before the "big four." "This matter also was considered at yesterday's session, but as in the case of other matters, no statement was made regarding what happened."

President Wilson's closet friends have stated that he would publish to the world the causes and sources of delay in the peace work if speedier action were not forthcoming. He was represented as being hopeful this would not be necessary. In all quarters it was agreed, however, that he has brought strong pressure to bear on his colleagues.

SECRET TREATIES ARE PUBLISHED

Paris, April 1.—The Journal Des Debats today published two secret treaties between Bulgaria and Austria-Hungary, showing the concessions granted the former for entering the war on the side of the Central Powers.

UP TO PRESIDENT.

Washington, April 1.—President Wilson alone can stay the hand of the law which has ruled that Eugene V. Debs, socialist leader and several times candidate for president go to jail ten years.

GENERAL STRIKE CALLED BY SOVIETS IN RHINELAND MAY BE BEGINNING OF EFFORT TO OVERTHROW GOVERNMENT

Berlin, April 1.—The general strike declared in the Rhineland by the soviet for tomorrow is regarded as the possible beginning of a new campaign to overthrow the present government. Its full extent will not be certain before it gets underway.

Among the demands being made by the soviet are:

- Disarmament of all troops.
- Arming of the proletariat.
- Freedom for all political prisoners.
- Immediate and close relations with the bolshevik in Hungary and Russia.

Workmen in Berlin were irate today over the government's arrest of Ernest Daumig, leader of the city soviet. He is the most important radical leader, next to George Ledebour, and was largely responsible for the organization that overthrew the kaiser. He is charged with instigating the Spartacan uprisings in January. The soviet claim his arrest was the result of the government's fear of further opposition.

U. S. ARMY COLONEL PAYS HIGH COMPLIMENT TO 330TH INFANTRY

"The 330th Infantry from Camp Sherman, Ohio, is the best outfit that has passed through Brest."

So said a U. S. army colonel, attached to the permanent U. S. headquarters in Brest to First Lieutenant William Shadrach, of this city, when the latter was located in the French city with the 49th Aero Squadron, shortly before starting for home.

"I am from Ohio, but I am not prejudiced in making these statements," said the colonel. "If I were from New York, I would say the same thing," and he continued in praise of the famous unit of the 83rd, in Company F of which there were a number of Xenia and Greene county boys.

The colonel told Lieutenant Shadrach that the Camp Sherman outfit was the snappiest regiment that he had seen while serving at Brest.

The conversation between the colonel and the local officer was incidental to words of praise regarding the 49th Aero Squadron, Lieutenant Shadrach's unit, which had just been delivered by the colonel. The two officers became acquainted because they were both from Ohio, the colonel hailing from Cincinnati.

He inspected the 49th Aero Squadron and afterwards told Lieutenant Shadrach that the unit was the best aero squadron that had come through Brest.

The air units are never drilled as well as the infantry, and the colonel was very much pleased with the snappy showing made by this squadron.

On the strength of their showing, the squadron was favored by an early return to this country, being placed close to the top of the list.

OVER TWO THOUSAND SOLDIERS ARRIVE

The statement added that within three days all lands in Hungary will be nationalized and all debts annulled.

CHICAGO IN MIDST OF MOST EXCITING ELECTION IN YEARS

Chicago, April 1.—Appealing to every passion and prejudice imaginable, workers for the five mayorality candidates today put the decision up to the people.

The exciting campaign ended last night in wild scenes in various parts of the city, but magnified many times in the down-town district where poured thousands from outlying precincts to turn the business district into a bedlam.

Clashes were numerous and hostilities finally became so bitter that stink bombs were resorted to. Banners were torn down, resulting in numerous fights between rival supporters and women shouted themselves hoarse from scores of band wagons that paraded the loop district until far into the night.

To prevent recurrences today, Chief of Police Garrity detailed reserves to patrol the 2,215 voting precincts and guard crowded sections of the city.

Candidates managers freely predicted that no less than 700,000 of the registered voters of 973,000 would cast their votes.

Last hour predictions of pluralities from each camp ran from 75,000 to 175,000. A vote was to be taken on the liquor question for Chicago.

"Drys" refused to take part in the campaign, considering it a dead issue.

The polls opened at 6 a. m. and will close at 4 p. m. Definite knowledge of the results were expected by 8 o'clock. Following up a strong campaign for John Fitzpatrick, labor party workers declared sixty local unions had ceased work for the day to picket the polls and "see that labor is given a square deal." The picketing and stopping of work was not to be considered a strike, it was stated.

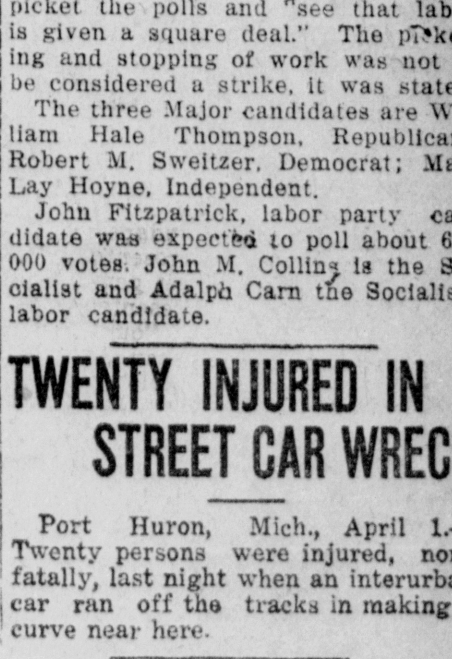

The three major candidates are William Hale Thompson, Republican; Robert M. Sweitzer, Democrat; MacLay Hayne, Independent.

John Fitzpatrick, labor party candidate was expected to poll about 60,000 votes. John M. Collins is the Socialist and Adolph Carn the Socialist-labor candidate.

KRYPTOK
THE INVISIBLE BIFOCALS

Kryptoks (pronounced Crip-tocks), without that conspicuous age-revealing "crack" or seam, give the convenience of NEAR and FAR vision in one pair of glasses. There is not the slightest trace of a seam or hump. The two powers (the lower for close work, and the upper for distance) are joined together in one solid, smooth, crystal-clear piece. Notwithstanding the fact that Kryptoks look exactly like single-vision glasses, they enable you to see both near and far with equally keen vision. That's why they are known everywhere as the "invisible bifocals."

Call and let us give you further information concerning these universally approved bifocals.

Regular Old Fashioned April First Mystery Is With Us Today.

Tracks always have the atmosphere of mystery about them. Doesn't make any difference whether they be railroad tracks, which lead into the land of far away, or little or big foot prints. Tracks key up your imagination—particularly odd looking tracks. Perhaps you can't figure out the sort of animal that has passed on its journey. That adds to the zest of the question. Just because today is April 1st, with its pranks and mysteries, it is a right good time to try to puzzle out the odd looking tracks which appear in this issue.

Many animals have big, husky feet, and it's worth while brushing up on this track business to discover what kind of an animal makes this sort of foot print.

Miss Phelps deserves much credit, as she has made her own way. She was determined to go to France, and as she could not go as a Red Cross nurse she sought the Y. W. C. A. They are not sending any one during the reconstruction period so she applied to the Y. M. C. A.

ADDITIONAL TAX OF $996 PLACED ON HARPER ESTATE

An additional inheritance tax of $996 on the estate of the late Vinna M. Harper was fixed Monday by Probate Judge Marshall. The tax was fixed on $17,387, which was the sum remaining out of the amount allotted by the court for payment of standing and contingent indebtedness against the estate. The sum allotted was $58,590.55, and the executors expended according to their schedule filed with the court, $41,207.94. The remaining sum was subject to the inheritance tax, and eight per cent interest from June 1, 1918.

The court found that the property devised to the M. E. church at Cedarville, and the endowment payable to North cemetery, Cedarville, were not subject to the inheritance tax.

The court also fixed the sum due the executors of the estate, George and John M. Murray, for their services. The compensation of George Murray, who lives in Colorado, and did little work in connection with the settlement of the estate was fixed at $250, and John M., upon whom the chief part of the work of settling the affairs of the estate rested was allowed $555.

SEVENTEEN YEAR OLD BOY AND GIRL ELOPE IN AUTOMOBILE

Glen Lowery and Miss Pearl Agnes Easterwood, both 17 years of age, made a highly romantic elopement by automobile, from their homes near Cedarville, last Thursday, sped with all haste to Covington, and were made one.

Then they proceeded to take a leisurely honeymoon trip. Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Lowery, parents of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sanders, foster parents of the bride, became alarmed. The former were worried both for the safety of their son and their motor car. Consequently they made an investigation, and Friday night located the young Lochinvar and his bride at the home of the former's uncle in Waynesville. They returned to Cedarville the following day and are staying at the Sanders home.

The young couple never took the trouble to notify their parents of their plan to get married. Young Lowery motored up to the Sanders house, his fair bride stepped into the car, and was whisked away in truly modern Lochinvar style.

"A laggard in love," stands small show of getting his lady fair, quote Lowery.

The court found that the property devised to the M. E. church at Cedarville, and the endowment payable to North cemetery, Cedarville, were not subject to the inheritance tax.

The court also fixed the sum due the executors of the estate, George and John M. Murray, for their services. The compensation of George Murray, who lives in Colorado, and did little work in connection with the settlement of the estate was fixed at $250, and John M., upon whom the chief part of the work of settling the affairs of the estate rested was allowed $555.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur N. Perrill, of North King street, entertained Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. George Grieves and their son, Benjamin, of Fernbank.

They were invited for dinner and to spend the day at the Perrill home, as a little surprise to Mrs. Perrill's mother, Mrs. A. L. Reynolds, whose birthday it was. Tendency to Constipation?

USE THIS LAXATIVE!

Dietitians advise a "careful diet," but that is troublesome to most people; physical culturists advise "certain exercises," which is good if one has both the time and the inclination. Doctors advise diet and exercise and medicine. The question is, shall it be a cathartic or purgative medicine? Or a mild, gentle laxative?

Thousands have decided the question to their own satisfaction by using a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin known to druggists as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A small dose gives a free, easy movement of the bowels. It is the best substitute for nature herself. In fact, since the ingredients are wholly from the vegetable kingdom it may truthfully be said it is a natural laxative.

Its positive but gentle action on the bowels makes it an ideal remedy for constipation. The dose is small, and it may be taken with perfect safety until the bowels are regulated and act again of their own accord.

The druggist will refund your money if it fails to do as promised.

PRICE AS ALWAYS
In spite of greatly increased laboratory costs due to the War, by sacrificing profits and absorbing war taxes we have maintained the price at which this family laxative has been sold by druggists for the past 25 years. Two sizes—50c and $1.00.

MUCH WORK AHEAD FOR THE RED CROSS

Hand and machine sewing, and quilt piecing for everybody, will be the order at the Red Cross work room Wednesday afternoon, when the work for devastated France will be continued. The rooms will be open at 1:30 and workers are invited most urgently to appear in numbers in order that the work may be accomplished. Dexterity in sewing is not necessary. The work is very plain and simple, and there are tasks which any one who can handle a needle will be able to do without any difficulty.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR DOUBLE ITS BEAUTY

Try this! Hair gets thick, glossy, wavy and beautiful at once.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents.

ARMY OF BOND BUYERS CALLED TO THE COLORS

Uncle Sam sent an army of 2,500,000 men to France, the finest of the time. He had as many more on the way to the training stations, every man of them fit to be a winner of the croix de guerre.

And when they got into action they upheld all the traditions of American gallantry.

But for all that the greatest army ever marshalled under the sun saw no service in the trenches or the training camps.

They were not regulars; they were simply volunteers.

The buyers of Liberty Bonds. And though they didn't do as much, physically, to win the war as did their brothers in khaki, they helped tremendously.

Just as they will continue to help America in future years win that other and just as important battle for the world's trade control. For that clash is coming, closer day by day. And the longer we hesitate, the more we delay the harder it will be to win.

Uncle Sam wants to get into the fray forthwith. He asks our dollars to that end just as he asked them for the winning of that other war. We gave them then and we should give them just as freely now. We should help him prepare.

Much of the proceeds of the Victory Liberty Loan will be applied to this preparation. It means stimulating industry, from mine to completed product. It means marketing, from salesmanship to delivery. It means ships to carry the goods.

And in the end it means a golden age of prosperity, in the benefits of which every one of us will participate.

It means greater opportunity for that other army of bondholders that accomplishes most, goes farther, fights better in times of peace.

For you and I and every other volunteer who lent our dollars.

The boys in khaki saved liberty and freedom for America.

Let that other army save honor and prosperity for it.

Putting this Victory Liberty Loan over is the first step.

DISCOURAGED

You have tried everything. It's the same old story. I hear it everyday. Your courage is gone, your faith is gone. The end would be gladly welcomed, but even that won't come. What would you give to be a well man—a well woman? What wouldn't you give to be healthy, perhaps than yours are yielding as if by magic to its subtle power. Why not your case? I will leave it to your intelligence and good judgment. Slaves to mock or false modesty, you deserve to suffer 95 per cent of the supposed incurable cases could be relieved physically and mentally, if they would only confess it to a friend, family, or better, a skilled physician. Don't argue I've tried electricity with no results—you may have no idea what an up-to-date electrically combined institution really is.

IF I ONLY KNEW JUST WHAT AILS ME.

How often have you made this remark? Yet you continue to suffer, hesitating to seek aid because you consider that medical attention would be too expensive, or perhaps are you dissatisfied with past treatment?

Remember, all the wishing, hoping and praying never cured any real physical ailment. Then why continue to grope in the dark, suffering pain, discomfort and dissatisfaction?

An X-ray examination will cost you but one dollar and is considered by the medical profession as one of the greatest aids to a correct diagnosis. If your case is not incurable you can be treated in one of the most completely equipped offices in the Middle West. 25 years' experience.

FAST PIQUA SKATER WINS MATCH RACE FROM XENIA CHAMP.

Bud Priller, of Piqua, skated a fast mile in his match race with Tiny Smith, of this city, at the rink Saturday night and easily defeated the local champion, the time of the mile being 3.42.

When Priller had completed his eighteen laps he was just about two-thirds of a lap ahead of Smith and riding easy, never being in danger after he had passed the local skater in the ninth lap. The Piqua lad showed excellent form and easily showed his superiority over the local skater, who has not raced for years and who is not in the splendid form he was at one time.

JOSIAH BEAL LEAVES $40,000 ESTATE

Josiah T. Beal, late prominent farmer of Caesarscreek township, whose will was probated Monday, left most of his $40,000 estate to a nephew and niece, William Roscoe Beal and Jessie Ima Beal. They take the estate, share and share alike, subject to a life estate of the testator's sister, Clara Chapman, in the income from $2,000. No other bequests are made.

The estate consists of $20,000 in real and $20,000 in personal property, according to the estimate filed in probate court. William Roscoe Beal was named as executor and he qualified as such, Jacob Jones, Samuel Faulkner and Claud Bates were appointed by the court, to serve as appraisers of the estate.

DRINK A GLASS OF REAL HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST.

Says we will both look and feel clean, sweet and fresh and avoid illness.

Sanitary science has of late made rapid strides with results that are of untold blessing to humanity. The latest application of its untiring research is the recommendation that it is as necessary to attend to internal sanitation of the drainage system of the human body as it is to the drains of the house.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the phosphated hot water is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatic stiffness; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Maxwell—a car improved each day

THERE is nothing like doing one thing year after year because it always results in doing the thing well.

This is the underlying thought in every Maxwell.

It is why 300,000 Maxwells have been built on the original chassis plan. Each day this car grows better. Each day it is improved somewhere.

There never has been a radical change in design. There never has been a departure from the original idea.

Still there have been more than 1000 improvements made in this car since the first one was built.

Every time a chance was seen to make it better the improvement was made.

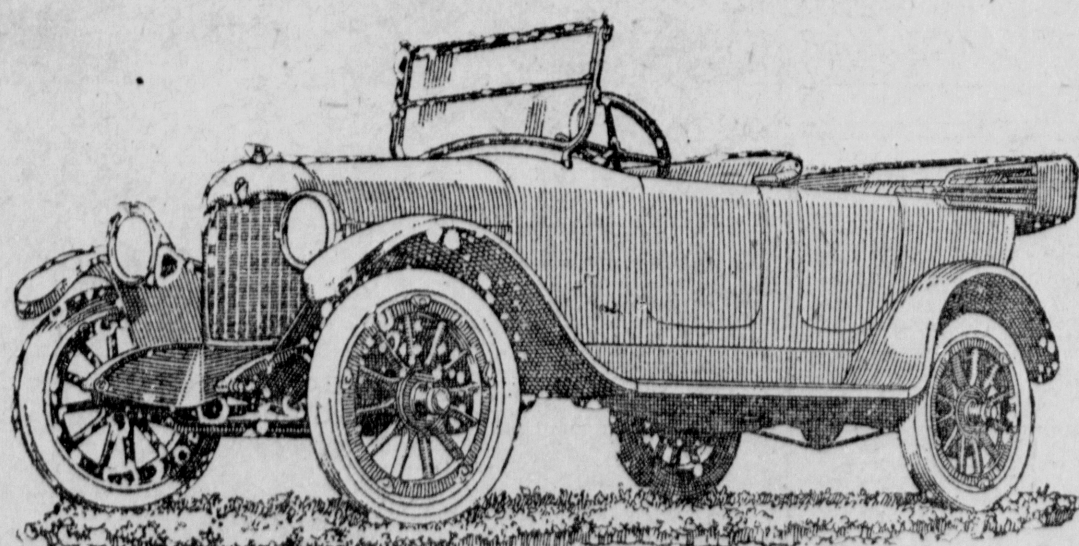

That's why a Maxwell runs on and on in almost endless mileage; why it grows better as it grows older; why it stands the moods of the careless driver.

No one has ever criticized the Maxwell on the grounds of reliability.

No one can criticize it on the grounds of good looks.

For there have been 24 recent improvements in its appearance.

See the Maxwell today and then get your check book ready.

THE EAGER LOYALTY AND BRAVERY OF THE COLORED SOLDIERS.

In time of war every loyal man feels it incumbent to keep a padlock on his lips in the matter of finding fault with military orders, for fear that such complaint might be construed as discouragement of the war.

But now that the war is over, it is not out of place to allude to some things that were done at first, which the people did not understand and which still stand in the shape of enigmas.

One of these things was this: Thousands of bright young colored men stood ready and willing, anxious and as we might say "champing at the bit," to enlist, and throw themselves in the vortex of brave and valiant men to battle for their country—but were not allowed to do so for some unexplained reason.

All over the country went up the inquiry as to why this was so. When recruits were greatly needed, why should these thousands of bright young colored men be refused the chance to do duty for their country? But still no answer, and still the people kept wondering as to the why and wherefore. And up to this day there has been no explanation.

There was deep resentment on the part of leading colored men why their boys were not allowed to volunteer, as were the white men by the thousands.

If the Southern prejudice against the negro was the sole cause on which the democratic administration based its action in this matter, it certainly was one of the most shameful pieces of race bias that the world has ever heard of.

There should have been no trouble to organize all these brave boys, who wanted to volunteer, into colored regiments, by the dozens or hundreds if necessary. Why, why was it not done?

Our enemy was fighting against us the heathenish Turks, and here we were denying service to thousands of our own loyal sons. This will be remembered for many years as one of the most disgraceful acts of the Wilson administration.

A black-republican President may have made these vassals men; but a democratic administration was going to show them they are not "equals."

However, thousands of these loyal colored boys did get "over there," as drafted men, and proved themselves fully equal in bravery with their white brothers.

Emmett J. Scott, who for 18 years was confidential secretary to the late Booker T. Washington, and who was special assistant to the Secretary of War, has given this testimonial with regard to the negroes' participation in the war:

In a word, I believe that the negro's participation in the war, his eagerness to serve, and his great courage and demonstrated valor across the seas, have given him a new idea of Americanism and likewise have given to the white people of our country a new idea of his citizenship, his real character and capabilities, and his 100 per cent Americanism. Incidentally the negro has been helped in many ways, physically and mentally and has been made into an even more satisfactory asset to the Nation.

So to-day, when we meet a colored boy in khaki, or one we know has worn the U. S. uniform, we are to feel that here is one who was willing to risk his life for us, and we shall ever be grateful to him for his loyalty.

Everyday Etiquette

"Kindly give me a form for an invitation to a woman's second marriage, I have no one to issue the invitations. The wedding is to take place in a church" asked the young widow.

The following is the form to be answered her elder friend.

The honor of your presence is requested at the marriage of Mrs. Maud White Jones to Mr. John Henry Brown, on Wednesday afternoon, January the ninth at four o'clock, Church of the Redeemer.

"HAVE FAITH AND JUMP."

John Galsworthy, the English author, gave an inspiring bit of advice to Americans at a dinner in New York the other night.

"You are at the commencement," he said, "of a period new and vigorous. You have material here in America that would drive us in England crazy. You must, you simply must tell of this amazing America. Have faith and jump!"

That would make a fine motto for present-day America, in all lines of effort, political and economic. "Have faith and jump!"

The big Americans of the past, of every sort, have done that very thing. Our two authors generally considered the greatest, Emerson and Whitman, were striking examples of this. They launched forth regardless of the paths of Old-World precedent, seeking to express the soul of America in their own way, as they understood it. Their work towers far above that of others who, lacking supreme faith, felt obliged to go to Europe for themes or inspiration.

Our great business men have been more conspicuous followers of this rule. Rockefeller, Carnegie, Field, Gould, Morgan, Hill, Harriman and the rest, all have plunged in and tackled the new problems of the New World in a new way and won. So have the great inventors. Edison is simply a big man chuck full of American qualities—and faith in these qualities.

We might even apply the principle to the present unexampled position in which the nation finds itself with regard to other nations. We are at the parting of the ways. Should we—if we could—return to our old isolation and provinciality, or choose a leading role in world affairs? We have tried and proved the efficacy of American political ideals on our own continent. Shall we back those ideals for other continents?

In this matter, too, Mr. Galsworthy would undoubtedly say, "Have faith and jump!"

It is incredible how far one can jump—with faith. That is the great essential. It was American faith that won the war. That same faith, if we keep it clear and strong, can win lasting peace.

TALES OF T. R.

One of the softest places in the Colonel's heart was for the members of his own regiment, the Rough Riders, and he appointed quite a number of them to government office, but never without knowing that the man was capable of filling the position to which he was appointed.

One appointment which he made was for the position of United States marshal in what was then a territory in the southwest. He realized that his appointment would meet with some local opposition in the senate and therefore to forestall any difficulty he sent for Comrade Berry to come to Washington. The story as the Colonel used to tell it ran very much like this:

"Comrade Adams informs me that you have killed six men."

"Yes, Colonel."

"Why did you kill these men?"

"I killed them all, sir, in the line of duty. I can show you the process of the court in each instance."

The Colonel answered, "Comrade Berry, how did you lose your right ear?"

"A gentleman bit it off, sir."

"How did he come to do that?"

"Why," he said, "I had a warrant for his arrest and him and me mixed it up and during the argument he bit off part of my ear."

"Well, what happened to the gentleman, Comrade Berry?"

"Well, Colonel, I think we split about even."

Early Thought.

Man is his own star, and the soul that can remember an honest and perfect commandment all night.—John Fletcher.

FOOTBALL IS ANCIENT SPORT

Was Popular Among the Old Romans and Also Found Some Favor With the Florentines.

Can you imagine Julius Caesar playing quarterback on the Rome university eleven, or Brutus skirting the ends in those days when the forum was as busy as a three-ring circus? No? Nevertheless it was a probability, for it appears now that football originated with the Romans.

A few uneducated persons used to think that football was of Greek invention; but Trench and Camp's trained news hounds, aided by Italian propagandists, have fastened it on Rome. The Romans, not really knowing that it was football, called it "calcium." It appears to have been a goodly, rough-going game, full of spirit, feet and broken elbows, played more on the soccer order than the Rugby style in common favor.

With the fall of the Roman empire "calcium" also fell out of the spotlight, not to appear in favor until the time of the Florentines and their Medici. There is no record of Machiavelli having participated in the games, but we imagine that if he did he played a foxy, clever game. Giovanni de Bardi, a well-known Florentine newspaper man, wrote as follows in 1580:

"The calcio (later name) is a public game played between two groups of young men on foot, not armed, who playfully compete in making a ball, by means of their feet, pass outside of a certain line back of the opposite group. The ball is mediocre in size, filled with wind, and the game is played purely for the honor of winning."

CATALONIA GREAT SEA POWER

Spanish Province Centuries Ago Held Undisputed Naval Sway—People Still Proud of Achievements.

The Moors were expelled from Barcelona in the ninth century. Catalonia had more than four centuries' start over Seville and six over Malaga. It is little wonder, therefore, that Spanish enterprise, if such a term is applicable, is seen at its best in Catalonia, because it has had a real opportunity to express itself. Catalonia has always looked beyond its geographical limits. It has, in fact, looked seaward. It was on the waves that the men of Barcelona found riches and glory. They were the rivals of the Pisans, Genoese and Venetians, and Barcelona can boast of a naval history as great perhaps as theirs. Catalonia for a time held sway of the sea, and it was only upon the consolidation of Spain at the beginning of the sixteenth century and the rise of the great modern states that the city was eclipsed as a sea power. The Catalonians, proud of their achievements, looked with little favor upon Columbus' discovery of America, an enterprise which had been promoted by neighboring Castile.

The Fool Hen.

The lad went to the henhouse to gather eggs. He returned with only two eggs and said a hen was on the nest. He was told not to disturb the hen, but wait for a time and maybe he could find another egg. In half an hour he ran excitedly into the house, exclaiming: "That fool hen sat on the nest until the egg was boiling," and he held the egg up as proof.

Labor-Saving Devices.

Water is used to transport fine coal through pipes, and in Oregon a blast of air is used to load hay in freight cars. The hay is drawn up to a deck or float beside the car to be loaded, a crane then lifts the hay to this platform, and a blower, driven by a gasoline engine, hurls the hay forcibly into the car, packing it better than can be done with old-fashioned hand fork.

Modern Slavery.

There is no legal and formal slavery now in any Christian country. It survives in a mild form in most Mohammedan countries. The penance system of Latin American countries is not much different from slavery, but rests upon a different theory. The peon is not supposed to be owned as property; he is supposed to be working to pay a debt which he owes the master.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS.

BARBARA OBJECTS TO ENTER-TAINING NEIL'S BUSINESS ASSOCIATES.

CHAPTER I.

I tried to sleep, but was restless and uneasy all night. I had liked Mr. Frederick immensely after I had become better acquainted with him. He had impressed me as wonderfully dependable and straight-forward. He had long ago warned me to try to stop Neil in his attempt to make money so quickly—and so much of it. Evidently he now had tried to warn Neil.

I wished I knew something about Mr. Black. Frederick had said that "540 per cent men" never got off with their crooked deals—whatever he meant by "540 per cent men"—and had then added: "To be frank, they are no worse than the deals you and Black are putting over."

I was sorry I had listened. To know part of anything, is always an aggravation. One is so inclined to try and guess the rest, or in lieu of that, to put a wrong construction upon it. I could not help but feel that the latter was what I was doing; consequently I had a feeling of guilt toward Neil.

Another thing that added to that feeling was his generosity and kindness to me. I had learned to love luxury only a little less than he did, and I spent money recklessly to gratify my own extravagant tastes. No one would have dreamed I was the same girl who, a few years before, had been satisfied with a home-made trousseau, and who had objected to the hotel bill when on her honeymoon. I now spent lavishly—partly perhaps because there seemed always to be "more where that came from," as Neil sometimes had told me. I had a lovely home, yet it was, even so, a constant temptation to buy things to make it more attractive. Then baby—I was horribly extravagant for him. Even the best was scarcely good enough for him, and I searched the shops, and ordered made the most elaborate and expensive things imaginable.

I had learned to have the same careless feeling about money that Neil had. I sometimes wonder, as I look back upon our lives together, which is the worst attribute of the two—to be a miser, or to lack perspective where money is concerned.

I have since learned that men of Neil's type, the careless, easy-going kind, where money is concerned, are usually lovable characters in themselves; and also that they are usually a prey to the professional hangers-on, who, not being successful themselves, are always ready to receive all the benefits possible from those who are financial successes.

But I neither knew nor saw anything of this class at that time. Of the other, however—the coarse, common moneyed class—I saw many. It had been with an apology that Neil had brought Mr. Scott home. And he also had been a bit ashamed when he brought others of his kind, and he asked me to "be nice to them." But after a time he ceased to be apologetic. He simply stated the fact that a couple of men would dine with us. Sometimes adding:

"Look as well as you can. A good front means a lot to these dubs," or "Play up to these fellows. They think a lot of the kind of a wife a man has. If she puts up a lot of style, yet is affable to them, it flatters them and makes them open up."

I hated this. Often I argued with Neil against his making a business place of his home, even while I wanted to know all about his business. I would not have objected, had he brought only refined, companionable men home with him, but cultured men were the exception; the other kind, the rule—men who talked loudly, who drank too much, who ate vulgarly, but who had great wealth.

"I won't sit at the table with such bores," I once said when he had brought home a man a little more objectionable than any of the others I had met. "Not even to help your business, will I stand for men like him." I had grown censorious. I was just beginning to have social aspirations. Little Robert was growing fast. We must be sure we had the right kind of friends, the right atmosphere for him when he needed it.

"There are plenty of women who would be glad to," had been his enigmatic reply.

It was so bad that it interfered with my swallowing and even caused me to faint. One bottle Sorbol-Quadruple has relieved this and reduced my goitre until it is unnoticeable. I will gladly recommend it to anyone."

Sorbol-Quadruple comes in small bottles, containing enough for most cases. It will not stain or irritate the skin. It dissolves the goitre, the impurities passing out through the system, leaving the parts in a well, healthful condition. Requires ten minutes daily.

OBITUARY

Esther Compton, daughter of Jesse Spray and Mary Cook Spray, was born July 16, 1831, near Caesar-creek meeting house, on the Jesse Spray farm, now owned by Zimri Haines.

Eighty-seven years, seven months and 22 days of a useful life came to a peaceful close on March 10, 1919.

She was united in marriage to Jesse Compton November 12, 1848, with whom she lived in most congenial companionship until death called him from her about 11 years ago. The following named children came to bless their home: Uriah, Martha, John, Mary, Lydia, Elizabeth and Mariah; four of these having preceded her to their Heavenly home. She also leaves 12 grand-children and 4 great-grandchildren, who will sadly miss their grandmother's love. And especially we mention Esther Levi and Howard, who found shelter under their grandmother's roof since their mother's death. These dear children (as she often remarked) have lovingly and tenderly cared for her in her declining years.

She was a birthright member of the Friends, and was converted in the year 1864. Ever after she was active in the work of the church, and faithful in attendance upon the services when health would permit.

She occupied the station of elder for a number of years, her work being highly appreciated. Friends soon discovered that she had the gift of the ministry, and she was accordingly ordained a minister of the gospel. She united with the W. C. T. U. at New Burlington in 1891, and served as president of the union for two years.

Aunt Esther, as she was commonly called, had a lovely disposition, and an untainted character. To know her was to love her. It has been said of her that it was a real benediction just to sit in her presence.

We feel that her work has been well done and that she has been gathered home as a sheaf of wheat fully ripe. While Aunt Esther has left us, yet we feel her life will live on and on.

"The Lord hath given and the Lord hath taken away. Blessed be the name of the Lord."

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the relatives and friends for their kindness during the sickness and death of our mother and grandmother.

John S. Compton and family.

Got Fat on Poor Food.

A recruit at one of the southern camps wrote a long letter home, which he started by telling how rotten the food was, and that he didn't get enough to eat. Near the end of the letter, about page fifteen, he told the folks how fat he was getting, having gained ten pounds in about a month.

MANY CHANGES ARE NOTED BY CLERK WHO HAS SERVED 50 YEARS

Mansfield, O., April 1.—After a man has served behind a retail grocery market counter for 53 years it would seem that his experience would entitle his opinions to deep consideration. Such an expert is John Fulmer, who donned his apron in 1866 and is still attending to the wants of customers, the oldest member of the profession in all Ohio, he believes.

There have been great changes in marketing in those times, the husband disappearing as the purchasing agent and the wife taking his place. For a time she, too, almost disappeared, the convenient telephone and packaged goods, delivered by swift motor cars, supplanting her supervisory examination of food stuffs. High prices and limited supply is bringing back the personally carried market basket and the careful inspection of the cautious housekeeper. Some day, he thinks, the vinegar jug and the kerosene oil can with its potato stopper may also return to the trade.

When he was younger and spryer, Fulmer says, the man of family stopped at the grocery on Monday morning enroute to business and left the weekly order. There wasn't the wide variety and the shelves of groceries were not lined with today's amazing quantities of canned goods.

"People dried apples—and had parties to do it, instead of playing bridge," said Mr. Fulmer. "And they dried their own corn and peaches, and had cupboards full of preserves for winter use. They even made their own soap, kept enough chickens to furnish eggs for the family and worked a garden to provide vegetables. Now that's all done for them—all they do is to take down a telephone receiver."

"It's the same with music. Girls pumped on a parlor organ to have a tune. But now that's canned, too, and all you have to do is to start a record whirling."

Deliveries in the old times were rare, being limited to about two each week, unless it was an unusually large order. Now a box of matches or a cake of soap will bring one. The grocer did not grind the coffee then nor was every article wrapped carefully, the germ theory not having reached the light in those times.

The housewife or her husband brought along the family butter crock or the vinegar jug, and marketing was carried on during a social hour, each family knowing pretty well what the other was eating. Clerks, Mr. Fulmer remembers, from from 5:30 until 9 P. M., and their employers would have had apoplexy if asked for overtime pay.

There were high prices, too, when he first came to the counter to practice, higher by far than those of the last three years, he asserts.

"I can remember when I was a boy coffee was 75 cents a pound and calico 75 and 80 cents a yard," he says. "Wages were lower, too, so high prices hit them harder than they do us. But people don't even ask the price of food any more. They buy what they want without thinking what it costs. They have been so used to foodstuffs going up that it's only when an article comes down that they get excited now. 'Why, what's the trouble?' one woman asked me when I quoted her a lower price on butter."

"The man of the family used to pay the bills. A woman's check drawn on her own account would be handed around as a curiosity. But now more than half our checks are in a woman's handwriting. In fact, except for the clerks and the traveling salesman, a man is a rarity in the modern grocery. Women are the real heads of the house. It is they who manage the family expenses. But even some of our best women customers seldom come inside the store. Marketing is done by telephone, according to the latest fashion in labor-saving concoctions."

There will, however, never be a complete return to the old days, no matter how high prices soar. Women will never be willing to keep house without canned beans and "put up" vegetables and fruits, just as they will never go back to pumping the parlor organ or melodeon to get the latest popular music.

Knew This Would Be Asked.

Tillie was leaving to go over to her little chum's house, when she suddenly turned in the door and called to her mother, "Mamma, has baby brother got any teeth yet?" When asked why she wished to know, she replied, "So I can tell Mabel's mother. She always asks me if he has any teeth yet when I goes over to play with Mabel."

The "falling from a height" dream has a physical basis, for scientists have shown that this form of nightmare invariably occurs during the first few minutes after falling asleep. It is suggested by the general muscular relaxation that takes place when we settle down. A change of position of even a fraction of an inch, or the least little slip of the muscles, is sufficient to convey the idea of a fall to the brain.

Just try it! Make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen, and bring out the hidden roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful for rough, red hands.

Your druggist will sell three ounces of orchard white at little cost, and any grocer will supply the lemons.

PROMINENT DOCTORS
EXCITED AND AMAZED

They Are Worked Up Over The Action of Phosphated Iron Making The Weak Strong

Victims of weak nerves and run down systems due to lack of pure blood will be glad to know that there is, according to the best physicians a reliable remedy for them.

Many who were steadily going down hill to permanent illness and nervous breakdown have regained perfect health by taking Phosphated Iron, the new blood and nerve food.

One elderly woman said, "I was all in, looked and felt like the last run of shad, was clear discouraged without ambition or appetite. Now look at me. I have the good health and bubbling spirits of a girl of eighteen, eat and sleep well. It made a new man of my husband too. And though we are well along in years we both face the future with confidence, knowing that as long as our blood is charged with good health-giving iron and Phosphates we are safe."

Again a bookkeeper who used to say: "If ever a man had a case of nerves it was me. I could not sleep at night, the least sound made me jump, appetite gone, everything was up hill work and I felt myself slipping every day. My doctor said: 'Try Phosphated Iron, it is the exact remedy you require'. The first week I improved; my nerves steadied down so that I slept, my appetite and digestion improved, and it seemed to me that I could almost feel the Phosphates and iron feeding my weak weary blood and tired nerves. I now weigh 25 lbs. more than I ever did, and much stronger."

A prominent physician to whom the above statements were submitted said: "Yes, Phosphated Iron is easily the most wonderful iron prescription yet discovered, its ingredients are well known to all blood and nerve specialists and widely prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice and cured many patients where other physicians had failed. I can highly recommend it for all cases of weak nerves and poor blood, as well as general loss of tone, with absence of appetite. It seldom fails me in this class of cases."

Special Notice: To insure doctors and their patients getting the Genuine Phosphated Iron we have put in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to sell you pills or tablets.

Don't burn good fuel

It's a useless waste of good fuel and a needless extravagance to try to burn it in a poor stove. It is absolutely wrong to expect good food to supply energy, vitality, health and happiness if your stomach won't absorb and assimilate it. If you cannot eat with enjoyment, if your food does you no good, if food distresses rather than benefits, then you have indigestion or dyspepsia. The best remedy to use is PEP SINCO.

VETERANS OF THE WORLD WAR TO HELP PUT LOAN ACROSS

Soon it will be "Veterans of the World's War." For years we have been accustomed to seeing the Grand Army of the Republic in operation, taking its part and exerting its influence on the life of the nation, and then later, the Spanish War Veterans became an influence.

Now, with the close of the World's War there are several millions of returned soldiers returned from the training camps, returned from France. These men are coming back and are rapidly being assimilated into civil life again, and one of the very encouraging features of the demobilization of these vast armies is the attitude of the returned soldier toward the civil life of the country.

One of the surest indications that the returned soldier means to take his place and exert his influence is the way in which these returned soldiers are responding to the calls to help along all kinds of civic movements. These men finished their job in conquering the Hun, and now, coming back home, they are fast lining up with the various organizations that still have a job to be finished in order to clean up the World's War program.

The returned soldier, almost to a man, is lining up with the Liberty Loan Organization to help finish that job. The Fifth or Victory Loan must be put across and must be fully subscribed before the United States as a nation can hold up its head with other nations and say, "We have finished the job, we have cleaned up the war and are now ready for peace."

Lieut. A. R. Cribbs is in Greene county today laying the groundwork for the organization of the returned soldier to help put across Greene county in the Victory Loan. The organization that is now being formed will be a vital influence in helping Greene county to subscribe its quota.

These returned soldier boys of ours who so nobly responded to the call of the government and who so willingly gave everything, are now lining up to help finish the job back home as completely and thoroughly as they finished the job "Over There."

Lieut. Cribbs is representing the Treasury Department, working through the Central Liberty Loan Committee which is in charge of the bond campaign in the Fourth Federal Reserve District.

By the time this bond campaign is over practically every returned soldier in Greene county will be lined up with this organization, which will become permanent after the bond campaign, and will then align itself with whatever state or national organization that will finally represent the Soldiers of the World's War.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ Poor Wash Woman Willing To Give Up Her Job

The wife of a certain Xenia saloonist is telling the following story which clearly illustrates the truth of what the prohibitionists and white ribbons have been preaching for years. The lady in question remarked the other day to her wash woman that she did not know what she was going to do when the saloons went out of business, thereby cutting of the earning capacity of her family. The wash woman was quick to tell her where to get a job. "You can have my job," magnanimously said the wash woman. "When the saloons quit business my husband will bring home enough money so I can stop washing for a living."

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ANCIL STEPHENS WINS FIRST LEG OF SKATING RACE

Ancil "Yank" Stephens, High School athlete, won the first leg of the series of one mile skating races being held nightly at the Rink this week, when he skated the mile in 3:30 Monday night.

Paul Pratt was a close second with Benny Clarence third. The race was hotly contested from start to finish, and "Yank" was forced every step of the way, the other lads crowding him on the corners in every lap. The mile was faster than the race between Bud Priller of Piqua, and Tiny Smith of this city, Saturday night, in which Priller made the mile in 3:42. The races will be held nightly between the amateurs and the winners each night will hold over for the finals on Saturday.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

4 Times as Much Potash as Manure

No Contaminating Qualities or "Filler"

A limited quantity of this fine fertilizer is offered for sale by the City officials of Columbus, who have determined to give users the benefit of low prices, rather than continue to sell to the consumer at huge profits. You can order in 100-lb. or ton lots—sacked or in bulk—and save big money.

Costs Less—Use Less per Acre

The price on this better grade of fertilizer has been made lower than you have ever bought its equal before.

Especially Adapted for

Truck farms, gardeners, nursery men, small fruit growers, corn and tobacco raisers, and others who do not renew chemical elements of their land by crop rotation.

ONLY 1000 TONS AVAILABLE

The Ohio State Fertilizer Bureau has analyzed this fertilizer and endorses it as more efficient than manure.

Remittances must be made in cash, money order or on C. O. D. shipments. Write, wire or call, addressing all inquiries to T. D. Banks, Supt. Municipal Reduction Plant. Phone, Main 913. City Hall, Columbus, Ohio.

THEATERS

BIJOU.

Clever Constance Talmadge and interesting Harrison Ford proved an irresistible combination in the cast of "Romance and Arabella," the Select Picture which plays at the Bijou theater, Wednesday. The picture is one of the cleverest comedies that the screen has ever seen.

It is the screen version of the stage success by William Hurlbut, which had a very successful run in New York, and is a comedy written in satiric vein of modern fads and ideas, and is filled with sprightly humor which offers the popular Select star many excellent distinctly Constance Talmadge comedy opportunities.

Besides Miss Talmadge and Mr. Ford there are also Monte Blue, Gertrude Clair, Arthur Carew, Antrim Short and James Neill.

ORPHIUM.

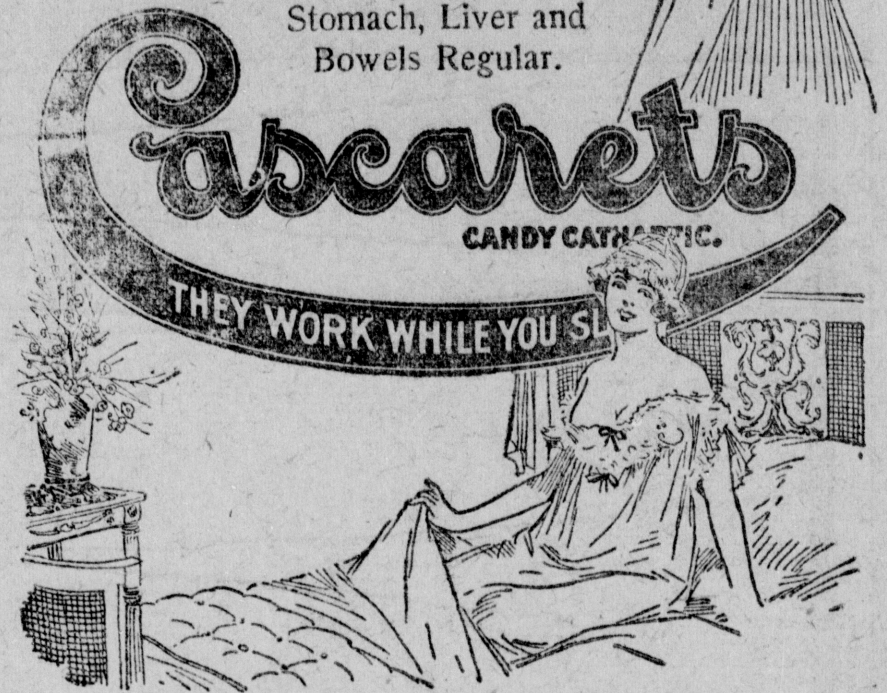

Edith Roberts has a decidedly clever role in the Bluebird Picture, "A Taste of Life," in which there is a decidedly original mix-up of plot, which is unraveled finally very interestingly. The picture is at the Orphium, Wednesday.

Billy Mason is playing opposite Miss Roberts and the cast also includes George Hernandez, May Emory and Harry Todd. It is bright and sprightly and maintains interest from start to finish.

OBITUARY

The subject of this sketch was born April 15, 1844, in Richland Township, Greene Co., O., on the farm of his ancestors where he passed away March 4, 1919.

He was the son of Wm. T. and Elizabeth J. Wright, being the last of a family of 7 children. He was married to Miss Caroline Scarff, August 6, 1867.

On the 50th anniversary of this occasion they celebrated their golden wedding, when probably 200 guests assembled at the beautiful home.

The Wright family were known for their piety, numbering class leaders as the grandfather, William Wright, and among the ministers of the old Cincinnati Conference we find J. F. Lloyd, William Hypes, John A. Story, Sheridan Bell.

Mr. Wright was a member of Trinity Methodist Church, Xenia, O., he and his wife uniting under the ministry of J. W. Cassatt.

Residing in the Union neighborhood, he was associated with the pastors of Union and worshipped frequently at Richland church.

He leaves his widow, Caroline Scarff Wright. All of his father's immediate family preceded him.

The funeral services were held at Trinity church, conducted by his pastor, Rev. H. J. Jewett and Dr. John A. White. He was buried by the side of his parents in Woodland cemetery, Xenia.

"Women" Vs. "Males."

The nuances of the English language seem to be as well understood by the person who advertised for "An aged woman to care for an elderly lady," as by the southern dandy who, presenting himself at the door of a fine mansion, announced: "It's lookin' fo' de cullud lady what works fo' de white woman at dis house."—Springfield Union.

Practical Estimate.

"Did you say Bilgins is a good loser?" "Yes." "Why, even when his luck is worst he never loses more than two or three dollars." "That's what I call a good loser."

TWINS TOSS A COIN TO DECIDE WHICH IS MIKE

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., April 1.—One's Mike and 'other's Neil, but which is which the officers and men at Camp Sherman can't tell.

The soldiers in question are twins, Neil and Mike L. Shea, who were brought to camp last fall with a draft contingent from Green Bay, Wis. Literally they are as alike as two peas. The Top Sergeant of their company told them apart only on the circumstantial evidence that Mike's right shoe had a patch on the toe. That was the only difference.

Many a time they worked the mistaken identity stunt, and many a time were the members of their company dumfounded to tell shoes, thereby further confusing their identity. Each answered to the other's name until finally there really was no difference between them.

One fine day early last fall the company was lined up and an officer appeared with a long typewritten list in his hand, the names of soldiers chosen for overseas duty.

"As your name is called, step one pace to the front," ordered the officer, and the company fell into a breathless, tense silence as it waited the reading of the fateful list of the chosen few—the elect, the lucky.

"Mike L. Shea," was the first name called by the officer.

Then it was that a strange thing occurred. As at a given signal two soldiers stepped one pace to the front and came to attention. Some one in the ranks tittered.

"Mike L. Shea," repeated the officer. He did not like to have the old mistaken identity joke carried too far.

"Which one of you is Mike?" he thundered. "Speak up!"

"I am sir," answered a duet in perfect harmony. The officer's face became a deeper hue.

"Which one of these men is Mike?" he officer inquired of the top Sergeant. The Sergeant turned. He knew which was which. These things had happened before. He gazed not at their faces, but at their shoes. The toe of one of the soldier's shoes had a patch on it. He turned and saluted the officer.

"This one's Mike," he said. Both twins wore a peculiar dumfounded air. The Captain pointed to the one with no patches on his shoes and ordered him back into the ranks, threatening him with kitchen police duty.

Now, a soldier of the command tells a strange story. He claims that in going into the barracks building shortly afterward he was a witness to one of the strangest games of chance with the strangest things at stake that one can imagine.

Two soldiers alike as peas sat on a cot. One of them held a coin, ready to flip.

"Heads I'm Mike, tails you're Neil," began the one with coin.

"Oh, no doubt! Heads I'm Mike and tails you're Mike." And so it was settled. The coin was flipped and it fell motionless on the floor.

A few minutes later the soldiers hastily changed shoes and one of them threw his belongings into a kit bag and reported to the Captain. The officer satisfied himself that the soldier wore shoes, one of which contained a patch on the toe. Thereupon that soldier started on the long trip to France and the front. The other twin remained in camp and is still there.

The other day Mike or Neil got a letter from across the seas from Mike or Neil. HE'S coming back soon, and not until he does get back will the old command be satisfied if the boys care to tell them.

Which one is with Company E 264th Infantry, in France and which one is a member of the Base Hospital Detachment, Camp Sherman, is still a mystery.

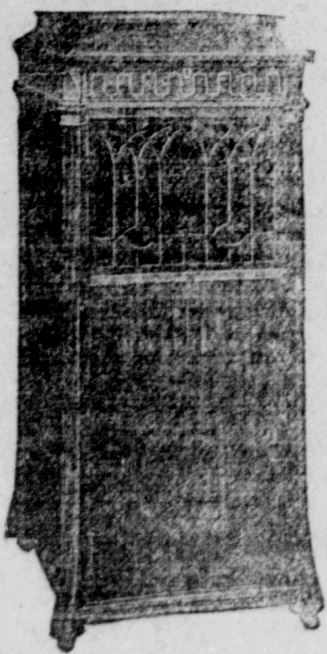

The one at Camp Sherman just crins!

REAL SURE ENOUGH OCEAN FISH BROUGHT FRESH TO YOUR DOOR

No, Hector, this is not a fish story but a story of fish!

You small-town land lubbers may doubt the words set herein, but on inquiry M. H. Hayward, agent for the Atlantic Fish Distribution Company of Boston, Mass., will soon dispel your doubts.

At least we had a talk with him and we now admit that there is a lot about fish that we poor in-land fish do not know.

Hayward came in this fair garden spot of the world Monday morning with a cargo of sea-going fish and before the darkening shadows had cast themselves over the B. & O. freight office, most of the finny visitors had found a temporary haven of rest in some other Xenian's home.

The Fish Distribution Company is making itself known as a big factor in the price-slicing campaign by bringing ocean fish to the door of the consumer at a price conveniently accessible to the average pocketbook. The fish are lured from the green depths of the Northern Atlantic and before they are well aware that they have changed from blue fish, or herring or cod or whatever it might be to suckers, they are pulling into the B. & O. siding here all lit up in an Eastern costume of crystal ice. The change is miraculous but nevertheless true.

According to Mr. Hayward the fish are caught, about 700 different sizes and varieties of them, by the fishermen off the coast of New England, where the water is always cold, both summer and winter. Both nets and lines are used to coax the scaly creatures from their firesides. In a highly delectable manner their heads are divorced from their bodies and within a comparatively short time, their insides are serving as the piece de resistance at the office cat's banquet.

The fish are then put in big pans and removed to a refrigerator where eight or ten degrees below zero congeals them. They are then dipped in hot water to loosen the bones and when again put in a refrigerator of a little warmer but still below freezing temperature they are coated with a protecting glaze of ice. Thus the fish in being prepared are not salted but come fresh to the consumer.

Refrigerator cars haul the fish to points of distribution in Ohio. The Company now makes Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton, Springfield, Hamilton, Piqua, Middletown, Canton, Miami, Lima and Xenia, Ohio, and Richmond, Ind. Eliminating the middleman, they are sold cheaply Monday thirty thousand pounds of fish were brought to Xenia and a major portion of them were sold during the day. The crowds clambering over each other in their haste to get the product.

This manner of distributing fish to the people is highly advocated by the government as one means of lowering the price of food-stuffs. It is also said that the ocean fish are considerably more delectable than the lake or channel fish.

Mr. Hayward will probably be in this city next Monday with a carload of fish but in case he does, announcement will be made later.

To the local land-lubbers who only know three kind of fish—sardines, salmon and cod fish balls, it is an education to visit the fish car.

PROBATE COURT

Albert Crabb, white, was committed to the Dayton State Hospital by Judge J. C. Marshall Monday afternoon. This is Crabb's second trip to the Dayton institution. About two years ago he was adjudged insane after he had run away from home and remained for days, completely baffling authorities as to his whereabouts. He was released from the hospital a year and a half ago, and was normal until recently, when he began having fits of depression.

HAD NOT ENJOYED A MEAL IN TWO YEARS

Everything Soured on Stomach—How Mr. King Found Relief.

"I suffered ten years with stomach trouble and spent lots of money for medicine, but I never found any relief until I commenced using Milk's Emulsion. Unhappily, I had not enjoyed a meal in two years. Everything soured on my stomach. I have used but five bottles and feel that I am thoroughly cured."—John W. King, Rensselaer, Ind.

The blessed relief from stomach trouble, and the real lasting benefit which Milk's Emulsion brings, are easily within the reach of every sufferer. It is so guaranteed that it costs nothing to try. Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, destroys away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milk's Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion under this guarantee—take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. IT'S OVER, OVER THERE

Remember, how the troop trains used to roll leisurely past with the khaki clad youngsters hanging out of the various windows giving you the "high sign" and singing out lustily: "And we won't come back till it's over, over there."

Well, it's over. But there are some things like a million and a half of them still over there. And while they're there they must be cared for just as well, and with just as much expense if need be to keep them well conditioned and healthy, as when the fight was on.

For a Yank lost in the hospital is just as eternally lost as if he were killed on the battlefield.

Either way the mother's heart suffers just the same.

We want to bring them back! Safe and sound!

And so does Uncle Sam. He is bringing them back just as rapidly as possible; in numbers just as great as the transports will comfortably accommodate.

Doing his level best to keep them in condition while they are there. Sparring no expense to return them to civil life as husky as when they went away.

And it all costs money. Lots of it. A goodly portion of the receipts from the Victory-Liberty Loan will be expended in the task. Part of every dollar you lend the government will go toward bringing these boys back home.

Your boy, my boy, our neighbors' boys.

Remember this, when the bond salesman calls. Help bring 'em back.

DAUGHTER ALWAYS TIRED

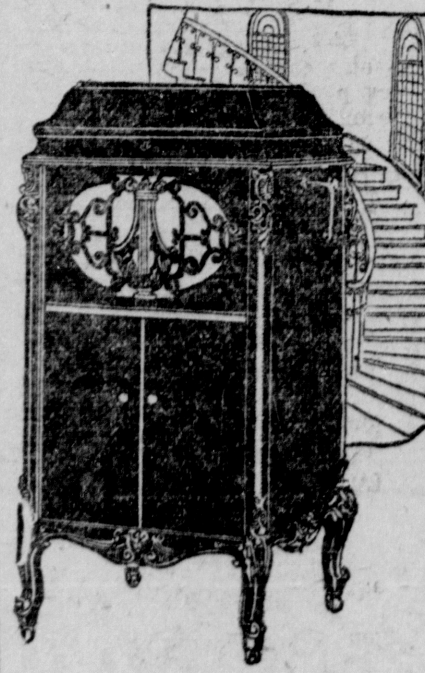

Mother Says Vinol Built Her Up and Completely Restored Her Health

Long Island City, N. Y.—"My daughter is a milliner and she got into a rundown condition, pale and had no appetite. After other medicines failed to help her, Vinol gave her a good appetite, built her up and completely restored her health."—Mrs. H. Ott.

The reason Vinol was so successful in this case is because it contains beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, the very elements needed to build up a weakened, rundown system, and create strength. Sayre & Hemphill, and druggists everywhere. P. S.—For children's Eczema, Saxol Salve is guaranteed truly wonderful.
